Ok, some things fixed.

Next game module looks tons better. I would like to get the date in a M/D/Y format and get a 12 hour clock for the time.

Once the season gets rolling, I expect there to be a problem or two. The module should run automatically once I put in the schedule and logos. We shall see

Also, the silly header at the top of this forum is gone. Firefox users might notice the modules are now centered. Still working on the "broken" top menu for firefox users.

Ready for the season.

Ok, Americanized the Next Game module to have Month/Day.....crazy Germans. (this was designed for soccer)

I may take out the date altogether and just leave the day and time if anyone agrees that it would be a decent idea.

I don't know that i can get our record to work.....that may have to be removed.

Previous match window.....impressed?
