Brittani Bailey leaves program

I can't find a link on the DRC or the official site, but the DRC reported this morning that Bailey is transferring to TWU.

I don't have a good handle on what the roster is now, but I think losing the 6-3 Bailey leaves NT very thin at the post position.

I really don't think she will be the last to jump ship.

From other things I've read and heard... SS is 'bout bizness and you either gonna be down with the program or get out of the program.

Goodness, now the team is down to only three Britneys. Bailey was academically ineligible last year and NT already has it's 15 ships filled without including her. I hope SS is able to kept 15 ship players. She can have a first and second team to play her fast paced game and at least 5 spots for players on probation at any given time. .
