
ULM or ULL

Who would we rather play? ULL beat us during the regular season, and we were 2-0 vs ULM. We struggled to put away both teams just last week. Despite ULM being the lower seed, I almost think I'd rather play ULL since like half their team seems injured or suspended. And in what will likely be a real struggle in the quarts(state rivalry and all - don't expect ULM to lay down) - I think it might be a good time to catch the Cajuns.

Do we know that the ULL guys will still be suspended? I saw both teams....to me ULL is a lot scarier.

I'd say ULM just because of 2 words : tyren johnson. He's has the talent to drop 30 + on any given night.

I don't think we know. ULL definitely has more talent, but they couldn't win away from home this season. I don't know, ULM is tthe better draw for us on paper, but I just have a feeling that ULL might be more ripe for the taking? Plus, we played mediocre at best against the Warhawks...that might be too fresh on my mind. :)
